DIRECTORS' NOTES

We can't wait for you to see the talent level of these young performers. It's fun for us to have students come from different schools and towns and get to know each other as they dedicate their time and energy to a creative goal.

SpongeBob Squarepants is a cartoon character whose superpower is his eternal optimism. He lives in the town of Bikini Bottom with his friends, Patrick the starfish and Sandy the squirrel (yes, a squirrel who lives underwater). He works for the greedy Mr. Krabs flipping krabby patties in a restaurant. Mr. Krabs' daughter, Pearl, is a talented and largely ignored teenage whale. Across town is the Chumbucket restaurant, which is run by evil-doer Plankton and his wife, Karen, who is a computer. Bikini Bottom is full of colorful and diverse characters like Squidward (who can't help but be a pessimistic downer who feels like he's never truly seen).

Today we meet SpongeBob and his crew on a very scary day. The local volcano, Mt. Hummungus, is about to erupt and destroy all of Bikini Bottom. Each character approaches the crisis differently: Mr. Krabs wants to make money, Plankton wants to manipulate the town, the mayor wants to stay in office, etc. It's up to Spongebob and his friends to save the day even if no one believes they can. In order to be the heroes that their town needs, Sandy, Patrick and SpongeBob are going to have to learn to believe in themselves even if no one else does. And they will have to learn to believe in each other.

Even with all the zany characters and far-fetched plot, SpongeBob the Musical is a beautiful story about belonging to one other, to our community, and to ourselves.

Sometimes, it only takes one person to change the tide.
